Saratoga High School, what a school!
Friendly people and a Golden Rule;
Lots of pep and lots of steam,
Saratoga High School is a dream.

By Judy Rossner

DEDICATION

We, the Class of 1955, wish to dedicate this annual to Mr. & Mrs. Charles Shierling, the Janitors, for their many years of outstanding service to the school.

Prophecy

"Oh, Mrs. Butt, the Times says that the grand opening of the 75th anniversary Ting-a-ling Brothers Circus is being held in our home town, Saratoga. Why don't you go back to see it?"

"I believe I will. After all, Protector and Gambles can certainly let a vice-president go home for a few days. You could come with me."

As we board the newest plane from Continual Airlines, we receive a pleasant surprise. "Why, hello Kay and Phyliss, this is a surprise. Are you going home to see the circus?"

"Yes we are, Mary. Can you come along?"

"No, Vic is piloting an MC-6 to Europe tomorrow, and I'm the stewardess on his plane. Make yourselves comfortable, and fasten your safety belts. Saratoga isn't far away."

As we gaze down, everything seems miniature and far away. Soon we can see a great city spreading out below, and we know that it is Saratoga, Indiana.

"Here we are. Get ready for a landing," calls Mary. "I'll take you to a hair stylist that's really tops when we reach the airport. You can have styles by Judith. You remember Judy."

"Of course, but we really can't spare the time. How is Judy?"

"She's happily married and has quite a family. Her oldest boy is in the Marines."

"Tell her we wish her the best. Goodbye, Mary, we must hurry."

"Look, Kay, isn't that Bob May in that Purple Cab? Let's call him. Oh Bob!"

"Hello. Where can I take you?"

"We're going to the circus. When did you begin driving a cab?"

"Just last week. I've got 40 acres in Jay County and I want to buy the 160 next to it. I'm earning money by driving a taxi."

"Well, you're certainly ambitious. Oh, look! There's Loren Powers' picture. 'Powers and Graham, the Evangelistic teams. Revival tonight." How did Loren meet Billy Graham?"

"Well, they met when Loren was in the seminary, and they've been together ever since."

When we reach the circus and step to the ticket office, we see Virginia Watkins behind the counter. We ask her, "How are you, Virginia? Do you like your work?"

"Yes. My family works here, too. They're the aerial act. Enjoy the show."

As we walk into the midway, the music of the calliope and the bright colored merry-go-round greet us. There, firmly grasping a pair of twin boys is Ruth Ann, watching over her flock of Byrds.

"Hello, Ruth, you must have your hands full."

"I certainly do, Robin, Bill come meet some friends of mine. No, dear, take your fingers out of your mouth, and say 'Hello.' Dear me, I'm sorry, but children will misbehave. Robin, you don't stick your tongue out a ladies."

Suddenly we hear a loud Rrrring! from the Strength Tester. There is Marvin holding a hammer and accepting a kewpie doll.

"Hi, Marvin. What is keeping you in such good shape?

"I'm a mechanic, and I sleep as much as I can. Say, have you seen Bill Cook yet? Just listen to him."

"Get your tickets now. See Charmain the Charming Snake Charmer. Step right up. Oh hello, Kay, Phyllis. Come see the show. You might see Dave Kessler; he just bought a ticket."

We step into a dimly lit tent, and, sure enough, there is a dignified, gray-haired gentleman, leaning over the rail fascinated by Charmain.

"Well, well, David. Bill thought we would find you here. What have you been doing?"

"I'm a Wall Street broker, and I'm hungry. Let's have a hot dog."

"All right. Look there's Delbert Cortner selling hot dogs and pickles."

"Hi, Delbert."

"Hello. Have a pickle?"

"No thanks, but we will have a hot dog."

"I'm doing very well. My wife is Elsie, the fat lady. My son Herbert is a sword-swallower, and George eats fire."

"You almost have your own circus. Good luck."

We decide to see the monkeys, so, we hurry to the cages and whom should we see but Don Wallace. He had changed considerably, and was wearing little glasses on the end of his nose and was getting bald.

"How's business, Don? What do you do now?"

"Try to spend my money. Ever since I tried to plant a rosebush for Peggy and struck oil, I've had more money than I can spend."

"Lady Luck certainly smiled on you. Why here's Margaret. What are you doing now?"

"Stanley and I just came back from Africa. Those lions and elephants over there were caught by me and trained by Stanley."

"I've heard of the 'Bring-em-back-alive-Bakers', but I didn't know it was you. Good luck."

By this time, Kay and I decided we needed a dose of Alka-Seltzer. Delbert's hot dogs weren't agreeing with us. We headed for the Saratoga Drug Store, and inside we saw Tom Johnson serving a white bearded gentleman who carried a cane. We sat down beside him and, "Why, hello Mr. Huber. Tom, we haven't seen you for a long time."

"I've been a very lucky person," said Mr. Huber. "I've just won the chess tournament."

"I'm doing all right too," Tom spoke up, "I'm a registered pharmacist now."

We leave the drug store and go to Seerose's for dinner.

"Would you like a table? Why Kay and Phyllis, how are you?"

"Just fine Don. My, you make a impressive head waiter."

"Thank you. Would you like a table by Joan Hoffman. She just came in with Rock Ford. This way, please."

"Hello, Joan. I've seen some of your movies. I liked the last one with Mason James."

"Thank you. We're making a new one called 'Earthquake'."

"I hope it's a hit. We'll be sure to see it."

After dinner and a short flight back to Cincinnati, Kay and I are very tired but happy to know that our friends did well.

Class Will

We the Senior Class of "55" Saratoga School, of the city of Saratoga, County of Randolph, and the State of Indiana, being of sound mind and memory, do hereby make, our last will and testament, revoking any will or wills heretofore made by us.

First: To the Saratoga School, as a whole we bequeath our best wishes for many more years of success and accomplishments.

Second: To the Faculty--We extend our gratitude and appreciation for the patience you have shown us during the past years.

Third: To the Juniors, with pleasure, we will the north assembly seats.

Fourth: To the Sophomores we will our ability to get along with the teachers.

Fifth: To the Freshman we will our ability to get along with each other.

We as individuals bequeath the following:

I, Ruth Clark, leave my height to Mrs. Fleetwood and my quiet ways to Linda Ridgeway.

I, Margaret Rossner, leave!

I, Kay Girton, bequeath my brownie points to Norieta Hardyman.

I, Joan Hoffman, will my ability to stay out of mischief to Glen, my brother, and all my nicknames to anyone who wants them.

I, Virginia Watkins, bequeath my good conduct in Comm.-Arith. class to Glen Hoffman and my ability to take teasing to my sister, Jane, who needs it.

I, Judy Pratt, will my ability to act up in Mr. Wiebusch's class and get away with it to my cousin, Winifred Pratt, who needs it.

I, Mary Warstler, will my ability to get along with and keep my boyfriends to Linda Ridgeway.

I, Marvin Fields, leave my ability to drive to Jerry Wagner.

I, Tom Johnson, bequeath my excessive knowledge to Bob Crutcher.

I, Don Coy, leave my height and slender figure to anyone who wants it.

I, David Kessler, bequeath my ability to get along with out-of-town girls to anyone who has trouble in getting dates and my driving ability to Gene Sipe.

I, Bob May, bequeath my height and good looks to Don Jones.

I, Loren Powers, leave my deep base voice to Alan Cross and my spelling ability to Ronnie Barkdull, who needs it.

I, William Cook, bequeath my ability to sleep in study hall and not fall out of my seat to my brother Don and my good looks to Hump Jones.

I, Don Wallace, will my ability not to get kicked out of Mr. Wiebusch's class to my brother and Larry Wagner.

I, Delbert Cortner, bequeath my ability to go with girls from Portland and forget them to Ronnie Barkdull, Glen Hoffman, and Jack Spille and my ability to not train and play basketball to Jerry Wagner.

In witness where of, we, the Saratoga Seniors, have set our hand and seal hereto this second day of May in the year of our Lord one thousand nine-hundred and fifty-five. (1955)

Class History

On September 3, 1943, seventeen eager little first graders found their way into Room 1 and demanded an education under the guidance of Mrs. Mamie Fields. They were Delbert Cortner, Marilyn Dean, Patty Fenimore, Marvin Fields, Kay Girton, Paul Jackson, Jeanette Mote, Loren Powers, Judy Pratt, George Rickert, Beverly Rheinhart, Larry Rheinhart, Mary Roberts, Mary Warstler, Jean Whiteman, Conchita Herriford, and David Kessler. We continued our second year under Mrs. Fields losing Patty Fenimore, Paul Jackson, Mary Roberts, and Conchita Herriford. We gained Tommy Johnson, Norma Keihl, and Wilda Bentley.

During our third year we welcomed Arta Barron, Ruth Clark, Jesse Clevenger, Ronald Hummel, Kenneth Jessup, James Pyles, Margaret Rossner, and Elsie Siberry. We lost Marilyn Dean and Jeanette Mote. The fourth year, brought us Mary Frogge and Wanda Tucker. We lost Jesse Clevenger, George Rickert, and Elsie Siberry.

We entered the fifth grade under the guidance of Mrs. Althea Witsche losing Mary Frogge and Wanda Tucker. We continued our sixth year under Mrs. Witsche gaining Judy Bond, Bill Cook, Richard Cook, Donald Coy, and William Malay, and losing James Pyles.

The fall of 1949 found us settled in the south row of seats in the assembly--we were now in Junior High. We lost Judy Bond during our first year in Junior High. Harold May, Robert May, Eugene Cortney, and George Landis entered our group during the eighth grade.

As green freshman we entered our first year in high school. When school convened we welcomed Charles Eberwein and missed Harold May.

Between our freshman year and our senior year, Donald Wallace, Virginia Watkins, and Joan Hoffman joined us and Beverly Rheinhart, Larry Rheinhart, Arta Barron, Richard Cook, and Ronald Hummel left us.

Seven of us have managed to endure through all the 12 grades in SHS. We are Delbert Cortner, Marvin Fields, Kay Girton, David Kessler, Loren Powers, Judy Pratt, and Mary Warstler.

First comes Ronnie
A lively sort of guy
This good looking chap
Makes Barbara sigh.

We lost Joan
To a real nice guy
Who graduated
From Jackson High.

Jesse is the next in line
So now we'll turn to him
To figure out this fellow
Has got us on a limb.

Orneriness is his middle name
But still he's Nancy's pick.
I'll bet you guessed who he is
Why naturally it's Dick.

Next comes Rita!
On this you can rely
Even though she does get mad,
She wouldn't hurt a fly.

The girl in the junior class,
Naomi, is a well liked lass.
The future will tell
If she does her lessons well.

Last of all comes Jerry,
President of our class.
Since he always studies hard,
We're sure that he will pass.

Next in line
Is little Phyl.
When you get to know her,
She's quite a pill.

Then there is Glen
Who made it clear
He likes a girl
Who likes to cheer.

Here is Glen
Who likes to fool;
He doesn't get his lessons
When he's in school.

Then there's Eugene
Whom everybody likes,
Even though he uses just
One finger when he types.

Then we have Gene,
Our basketball star.
With a girl from Jefferson,
He's going far.

Jack Spille is on down the line---
First, when it comes to looks.
He always has his mind on girls,
And never on his books.
